BLUE MANTLE

1858 — Lourdes — 1958

*Ten time-decades flown since then, in fear
Fraught with more than rumors of war —
Yet listen, listen, world: hear
In peasant patois, heaven-royal lore —*

See love sashed in blue, golden shod with roses.

*In answer and in homage to her
(Beauty of banners hoisted, blue and white)
We bring the picture book that children proffer,
The spoiled children of light.*

To Our Lady
of Lourdes

AND TRADITION

President of the College, Sister Madeleva, and Paula Lawton, President of the Senior Class, as seen in frequent consultation.

This is your yearbook, one quarter of the four-volume story of your college life. Unprecedented in your past, unparalleled in any possible future, it records your happy apprenticeship to Christian womanhood. It chronicles your glad novitiate in the intellectual life. It implies for you ultimate beatitude, achieved sanctity. It rests on your life with Mary, lived under the roof and tutelage of Jesus and His Mother. It cannot be an ordinary book.

For you these halcyon years of college life stand apart, almost insular. When or where again will ideals be so holy, generousities so boundless, perceptions so clear? Here you stand on the threshold of your bravest dedications. Never will you be more lovely, more beautiful, more intelligent. I have told you this before. Please believe it. The future will prove it true.

Your yearbook is a record, pictorial for the most part, textual in places, of this unique life, this land of promise, this your own fair youth. Here is your world in all its categories: classes, organizations, activities. Here you are at study, at prayer, at play, with classmates, friends, teachers, great moments, enchanted memories. No book can ever preserve for you so unique a history.

Your college year began with faith and hope. It ends with love, your love for Saint Mary's and all that it holds, the total love of the total Saint Mary's for you. Your yearbook encloses and enshrines this. It is our Blue Mantle.

*Year of Our Lord
Year of Our Lady
Our Year*

Nina Agarwala

In keeping with her political science major, sociology minor, Nina devotes her spare time to the Human Relations Committee. This quiet beauty from Assam, India, may often be seen behind the library desk in a flowing sari.

Rosemary Therese Andrew

A Christian Culture and sociology major from Oak Park, Illinois, Rosie views her studies and the world situation with an uncommon sense of humor. She expresses her interests in the Self-Responsibility commission and House Council.

Sally Ann Aubil

This history major and education minor from Chicago has her serious moments as a House Council rep; her joie de vivre reveals itself in her French Club vice-presidency, and her domestic talents in her role as Rec Chairman.

Shirley Ann Bajer

An elementary education major with liberal arts interests, Shirley is from South Bend. She is an avid student and student teacher as well as a bridge fan with a humorous streak.

Mary Margaret Baldez

A nursing major from Birmingham, Michigan, Mary is a conscientious student, the model of femininity and a living proof that good things come in petite packages.

Lourdene Lurette Becker

A South Bend music major, education minor, "Dene" makes use of her talents, as witnessed in her portrayal of Fiona in Brigadoon. Our junior day student representative combines intelligence with a sweet sophistication.

Moryce Patricia Beddoes

This willowy brunette from Waterloo, Iowa, is a nursing major and a member of the Vincen-tian Club. Pat's gay wit accentuates a cheerful disposition.

Mary Colette Bertaux

From Oak, Park, Illinois, this nursing major is at home in the Rec. A woman of strong convictions, Colette is energetic to the tip of her bob-bing pony tail.

Joan Louise Belknap

Wedded to her nursing major, Joan is from Hudson, New York. A tall blonde, she is noted for her clever quips and merry smile.

Barbara Ann Boord

A sociology major, psychology minor hailing from Chicago, Barb typifies the "sophisticated lady". The Rec is the locale for her most serious discussions. Young Christian Students claims her allegiance.

Joan Marion Bourgeois

An art major, education minor, Joan is from South Bend, but the art studio is her "other home". A congenial day student, she belongs to the Commuters Club.

Kathryn Joan Bowling

A history major, education minor from Sumner, Iowa, Kay's regal beauty is coupled with her genuine good humor; raconteur of tales of Little Brother Jeff; her theme song, "Chinatown".

Catherine Ann Burns

A Bloomington, Illinois, medical technology major, Ann is always serene. She enjoys the envied luxury of a car-on-campus; winter sports fan.

Patricia Anne Campbell

A miniature blonde from Moundsville, West Virginia, majoring in sociology with a psychology minor. Patty is a charter member of the after-hours coffee club.

Patricia Ellen Canny

Cleveland is the home of this history major, education minor; Ellen is down-to-earth, intellectual and witty all at once; as senior sports chairman, her spirit animates class tournaments.

Harriet Lois Capron

A mathematics major, education minor from Watertown (almost Canada), New York; persuasive junior class treasurer; tireless photographer for Blue Mantle; a likeable prankster; the soul of generosity.

Ana Livia Casanova

A commerce major, sociology minor from Vega Baja, Puerto Rico, combines the charm and traditions of Latin beauty. A beguiling dancer, Ana appeared in Brigadoon and Variety Shows; president of the Spanish Club junior year.

Margaret Mary Casey

A nursing major from LaGrange, Illinois, who is definitely Irish. Maggie is forever in a hurry, yet speaks deliberately; she is a tall "lady in white" with a graceful carriage.

Barbara Frances Chrapek

South Bend claims Barb for its own; a nursing major, Barb is both studious and personable; beneath the white cap, she sports auburn curls.

Catherine Elizabeth Collins

A sociology major, history minor from Corning, New York. Cathy's talents as a mimic and comedienne could easily qualify her for vaudeville and have in fact won her Variety Show roles; a staunch supporter of class sports.

Rhoda Mary Comer

A nursing major from Aurora, Illinois. Rhoda reigned as Mardi Gras queen; in contrast to that regal role, she tickled Variety Show audiences with her portrayal of a punchy boxer. Rhoda's brand of frankness endears her to all.

Rosemary Anne Corcoran

A Christian Culture major, education minor from Homer, New York. Everybody consults Ro; this "East Side, West Side" girl possesses a cheery disposition and that rare ability to see through extras to essentials.

Sue Ellen Corcoran

A nursing major from Sibley, Iowa, "Corky" personifies vivacity, Gaelic wit and professional capability.

Mary Ann Coryn

An English major, commerce minor, from Moline, Illinois. Mac is an amiable companion with an infectious laugh.

Patricia Elen Costello

A commerce major, English minor from Willow Springs, Illinois, Rick is perpetually armed with knitting needles. Her musical talents were put to work in Carousel, Brigadoon and Finian's Rainbow, though she saves her Sarah Vaughn voice for the Rec.

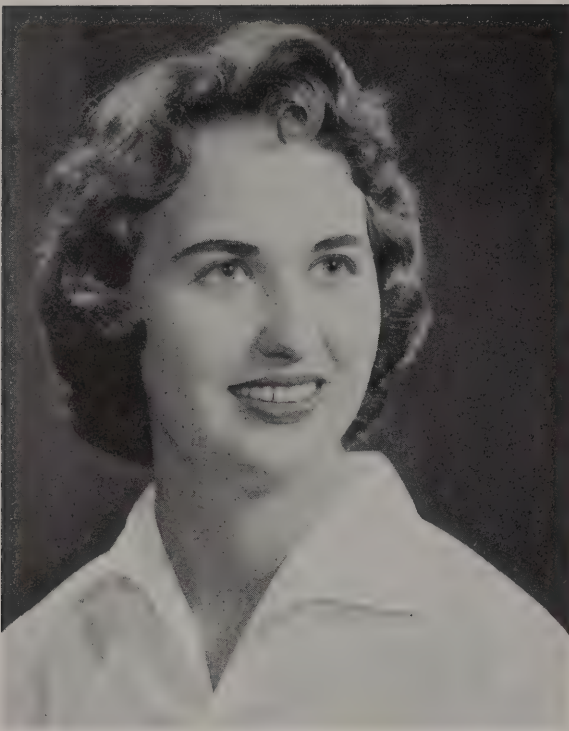

Ann Marie Czechanski

This sociology major, history minor from Lansing, Illinois, takes things as they come with matter-of-fact geniality. As president of the Staff Students, Ann is a member — and an articulate one — of Student Council.

Patricia Ann Davidson

A chemistry major from Chicago, Pat is the senior class secretary. Here is a woman of conviction who has — and gives — an opinion on everything; master of the wry comment; an ambitious denizen of the chem lab.

Joanne Catherine Dailey

A home economics major from Burlington, Iowa; our dancer in Notre Dame's production, Seventeen; a real individual with fun-loving inclinations; sincerity personified; trustworthy confidante.

Maria Diamandis (Chomeau)

A medical technology major from South Bend; her interpretation of Queen Eurydice in Antigone came from the heart, since Maria is a native of Greece. Her classical beauty harmonizes paradoxically with her up-to-date effervescence.

Carol Ann Daly

An elementary education major from Sacramento, California, who finds everything stimulating and every obstacle a challenge. This transplanted easterner combines New York decorum with California sunniness.

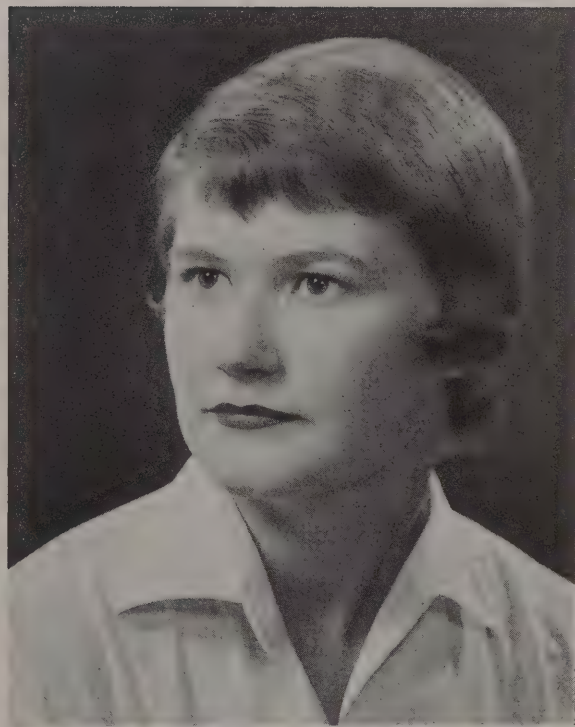

Frances Carolyn DiCarlo

A chemistry major from Oak Ridge, Tennessee, Fran is a dynamo of personality. As violinist in our orchestra, Fran proves art and science do mix. She is soft-spoken but sharp-witted.

Ellen Dooley

An English major, political science minor from South Bend; undeniably Irish with a penchant for writing; dependable, with time for one more chore always; ready with memoirs of her European tour.

Clare Xavierina Doherty

A home economics major, education minor from Chicago. A "place-dropper", Sistie spent junior year at the University of Fribourg; dance chairman freshman year and sophomore class representative to Student Council.

Margaret Rose Doran

A nursing major from Ashtabula, Ohio; real seriousness underlies Peg's keen sense of humor; her understanding and efficiency make her an ideal Miss Nightingale; sure Ashtabula outdoes New York!

Dorothy Marion Doyle

An English major, education minor from Pelham, New York; interested in current thought; co-editor of the Blue Mantle; an art editor of Chimes, 1956.

Sylvia Anne Dreussi

A nutrition major from East Liverpool, Ohio; a hand-lotion fiend with a sunshine smile; always playing the student, forever in the library, except for the "occasional" Rec break.

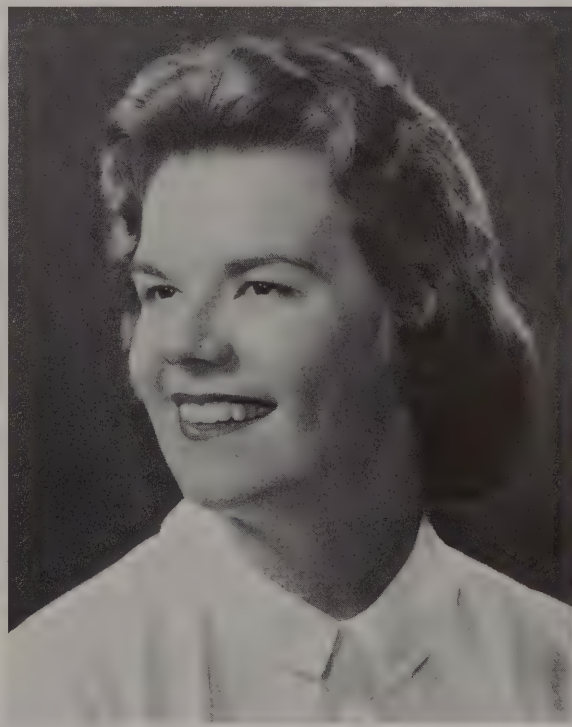

Elizabeth Therese Drey

A liberal arts enthusiast with a history major and an English minor, Bet hails from Des Moines, Iowa; put her talents to work by writing Variety Show lyrics and contributing to Chimes; a real sophisticate.

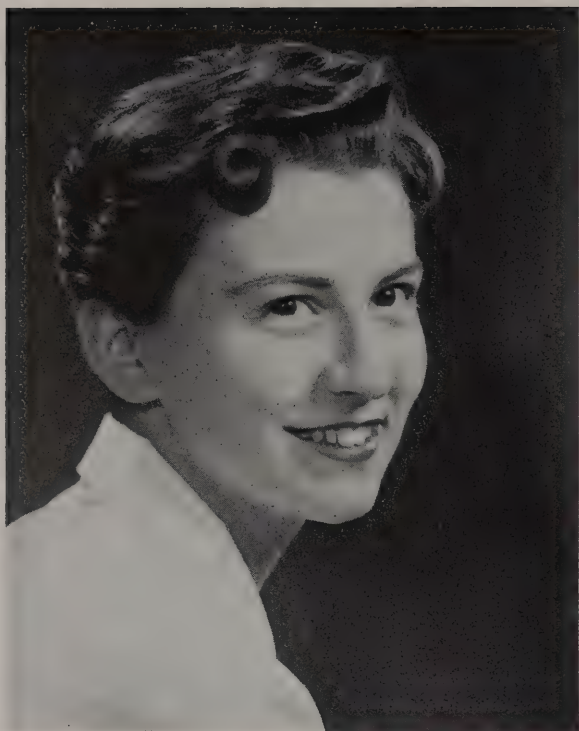

Catherine Marie Duffy

A speech major, education minor from Joliet; vice-president of our junior class and as senior, veep of Sodality; a student director of dramatic productions, notably Variety Show '58; her forte, the right and ready comment.

Joan Frances Drymalski

A home economics major from Chicago who wants to teach; a capable officer of Student Development and the home economics club; friendly, infectious laugh; always ready to help; likes sailor dresses and clothes, clothes, clothes.

Aviva Elling

A music major from South Bend, Aviva aspires to a master's degree in music. She plans residence eventually in Israel; dark-haired Aviva is bright-eyed and conversationally alert.

Barbara Marie Engelman

A biology major from Worland, Wyoming; a sweet soprano voice well used in Carousel and Brigadoon; soft-spoken Barb is quick to lend a helping hand.

Mary Ann Ewald

An elementary education major from Shaker Heights, Ohio, "M" is our conscientious Council representative; her chairmanship guided Variety Show "Manhattan Madcaps" to success; concentrated energy marks "M".

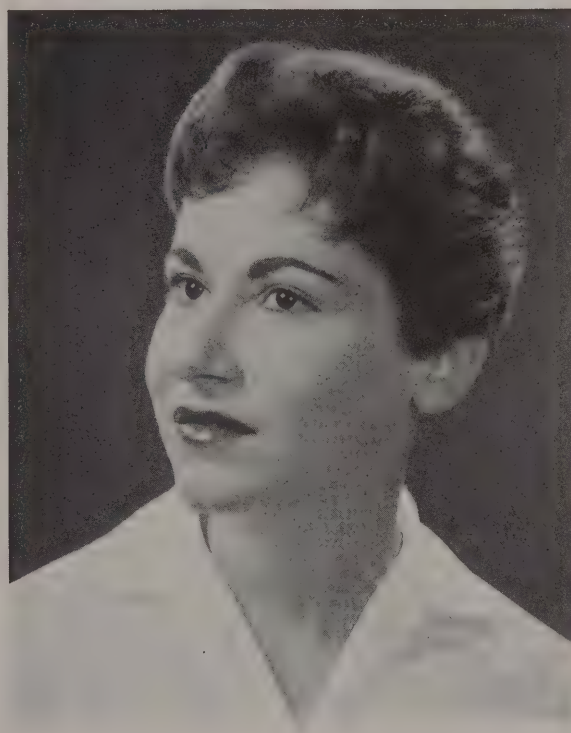

Janette Cecelia Eyerly

A Christian Culture and English major from Des Moines, Iowa; addicted to journalistic pursuit; Crux editor ever searching a fresh angle; member of Human Relations Committee; a literary light; engaging smile.

Julie Rbi Fitzpatrick

A chemistry major from Detroit, Michigan, known for her ironic wit; she's the only Rec habitue who invariably has a lighter. A member of Women's Recreation Association.

Angela Marie Fazio

An English major, education minor from Chicago, Illinois, who keeps Notre Dame informed through her Scholastic reporting; her portrayal of Brigadoon's Meg displayed her comic talents.

Julia Anne Furlong

An elementary education major from Saint Mary's, Pennsylvania, she is one of the little people with a big heart. Her darkest threat after her Social Chairman work, "If we have one more mixer, I'll scream".

Mercedes Graham

An elementary education major from Gary, Indiana, whose favorite hobbies are new coiffures and chatter — but not early in the morning, please. For her, off-campus life has its compensations, like coffee-breaks.

Joan Ann Galligan

A history major, art minor from Chicago, Illinois, who uses her assets in one way by artistic map-making; she's the "Bunky" whose name gets footprinted in the snow each year; Gilly has an inexhaustible memory.

Hannah Agnes Grasberger

A sociology major, psychology minor from Lynchburg, Virginia, who is responsible and fashionable, loves work and fun; her battle-cry as Variety Show choreographer, "Y'all, I mean business!"; her athletic nimbleness has won her a place on every class team and has brought her the presidency of the Women's Recreation Association.

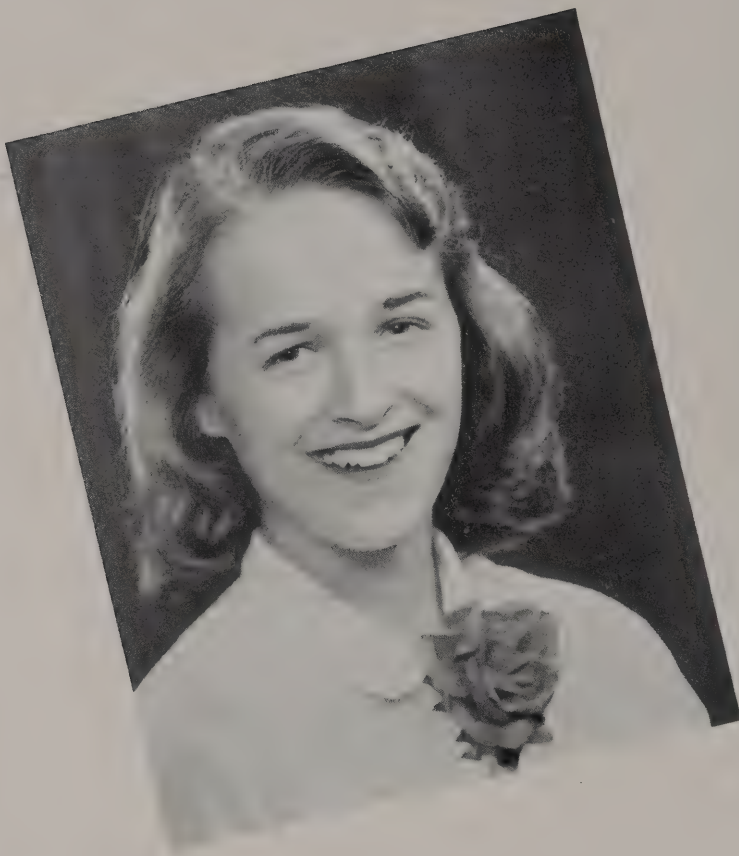

Patricia Mae Griffith

A history major, Spanish minor from Wheeling, West Virginia, who is easy-going and has a smile for everybody. "Mike's" semester in Mexico accounts for her linguistic abilities and her interest in the International Relations Club.

Emily Rosalie Gryb

A nursing major from Flossmore, Illinois, who is always meticulously groomed; "Emmy" possesses the wonderful quality of graciousness. She has a weakness for strings of pearls and French perfume.

Mary Ann Grysbeck

A Christian Culture major, education minor from Chicago, Illinois, this world traveler's Spanish is as fluent as a Castilian's. She is always at ease, casually reserved and in good humor. She is a member of, and publicist for the Human Relations Committee.

Beverly Ann Hahn

A tall and slender home economics major, education minor from Park Ridge, Illinois, "Bev" is deceptively quiet, but a trickster at heart. Her inclinations include sports, reading, sewing and bridge.

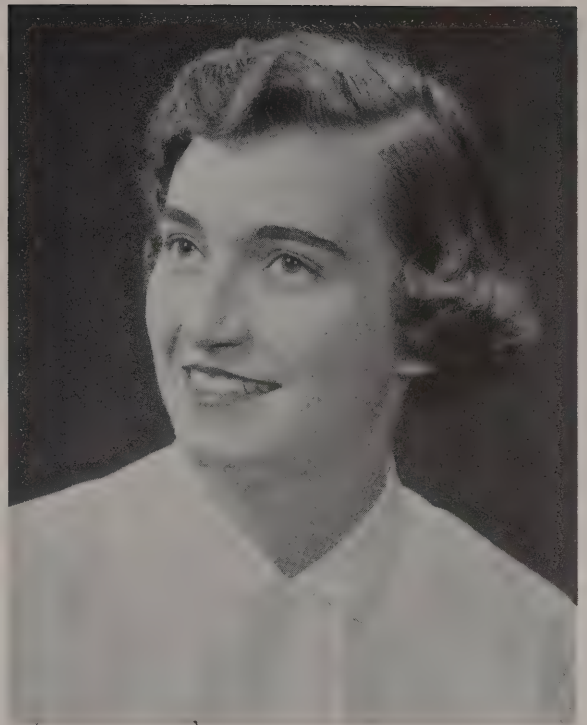

Eleanor Irene Hanks

An English major, education minor from Aurora, Illinois; a European traveler and artist in one; decoration chairman for junior Christmas party, Variety Show dancer and Mardi Gras choreographer.

Ann Clear Harris

A Christian Culture and history major from Ross, California, the assistant Crux editor blends criticism and cleverness. Coffee hour is any hour for this articulate, international-minded student.

Barbara Ann Hartmann

An elementary education major from Indianapolis, Indiana, Barb is secretary-treasurer of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. A born chatterer, she claims conversation as her favorite sport.

Jean Kotteman Heidt

A home economics major from Indianapolis, Indiana, Jean is sensible but gay. She was queen of "Mood Jasmine", our memorable junior prom; her style sense is notable — she always has that bandbox look.

Suzanne Catherine Henninger

A sociology major, psychology minor from Detroit, Suzie has a flair for writing. Though abbreviated in stature, she has an expanded personality, and Chimes finds her work good material.

Barbara Elizabeth Hilger

An elementary education major from Columbus, Indiana, active Babs is this year's secretary of Student Council; her identifying pony-tail got lost somewhere in Europe last summer; her enthusiasm peps any group.

Nancy Kathryn Hipskind

An elementary education major from Chicago whose interests range from the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine to the Education Forum of which she is chairman; industrious, light-hearted Nan is always ready to lend a hand.

Mary Alice Hixson

From Monroe, Michigan, this home economics major; education minor enjoys a reputation for domestic abilities, "sense and sensibility" and gregarious hostessing. "Mary Al" has an all-American way about her.
